

H2020 EUROPEAN GREEN DEAL CALLS

MATCHMAKING SESSIONS

November - December 2020

14:00h - 15:30h CET / 13:00h – 14:30h WET

Free virtual events

Introducing the H2020 - Green Deal call for proposals and present insights and expectations from lead partners while offering a unique European networking and matchmaking experience to forge winning research and innovation consortia.

DO YOU WANT TO PARTICIPATE?

If you are interested in attending the exchange on the H2020 European Green Deal calls and have a strong interest of creating collaboration and consortia in specific areas of upcoming EGD call, join us and design common driven project facilitation process, which will, hopefully lead to proposal submission!

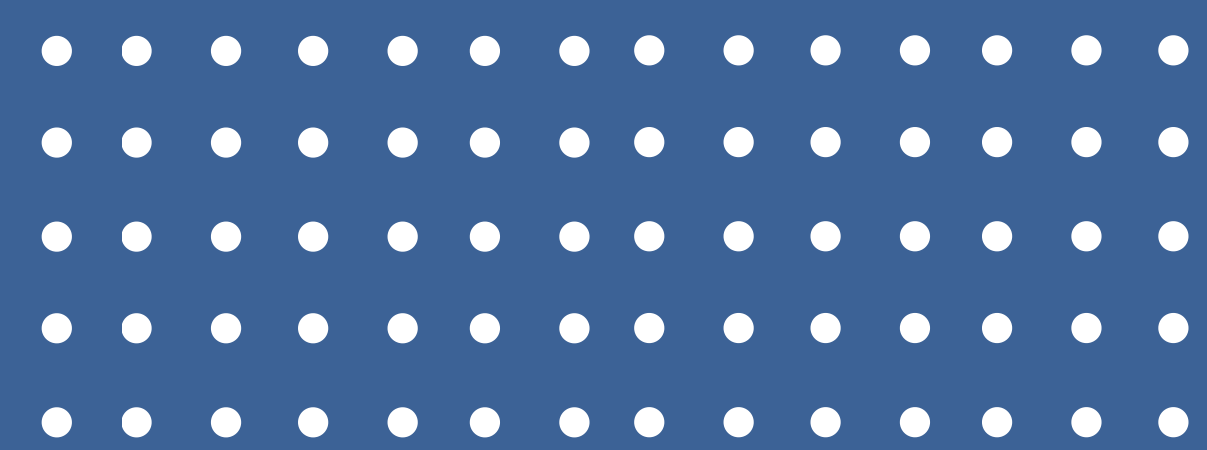

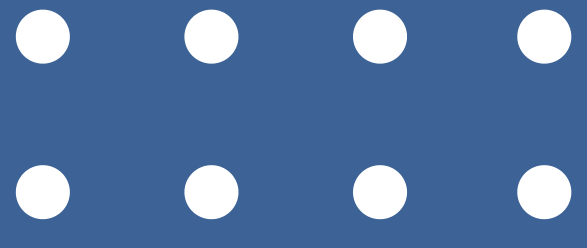

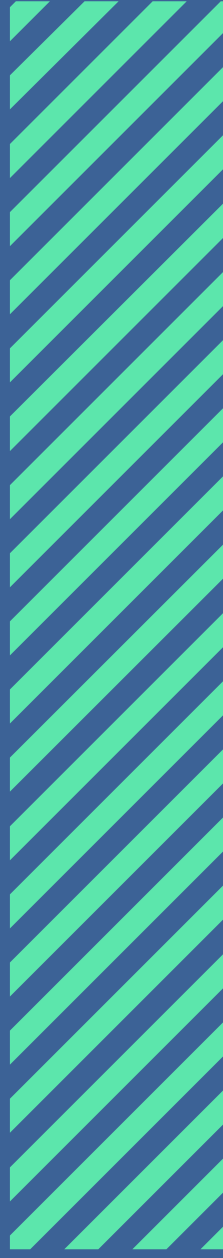

We will do our best to create the programme which will include presentations from lead partners in all areas of the H2020 Green Deal calls, and will provide a unique opportunity for applicants to pitch their ideas and expertise to leading research organisations, academia, SMEs and cutting-edge innovators from across industries...

ORGANISERS

Organised by IrRADIARE Science for Evolution, the events aim at allowing you to extend your European network and create strategic partnerships. The objective is to create a digital meeting place to pitch your organization's challenge / project idea / competence related to relevant H2020 European Green Deal topics.

WHO ARE WE?

IrRADIARE, Science for Evolution is multidisciplinary, multicultural, team, dealing with urban, local and regional governance and public policies. IrRADIARE works for public authorities advising them on best strategies to reach a good path of territorial development, namely, its mission is to contribute to the sustainable development of local territories also by participating in different numbers of European Projects. IrRADIARE is based both in Lisbon and Brussels where it represents a significant number of stakeholders on smart development such as climate, energy, digital, circularity, sustainability and culture and supports relations with European programs and institutions.
